

Land husbandry and fish farming, the Brenne has given rise to products which are strongly influenced by the land and to numerous products from the farms.

To discover them, there is nothing like going directly to the producers who may sell you their own products as well as explain the manufacturing processes and perhaps even show you round their farms.

To find the list of producing farmers who are members of the Natural Regional Park of the Brenne, just click this link .

In summer you can enjoy the "marché à la ferme" (the farmers' markets) in order to discover new products and fill your basket in a different and amusing way.
